

The Day my Bedroom Changed!

You wake up one morning, and as you open your eyes, you notice something very peculiar! Your bedroom has completely changed! You are now in a completely different world!

Write a story using descriptive language to explain what happens next.

- Think about engaging your reader
- Add in speech, both direct and reported
- Use subordinating conjunctions to vary the structure of your sentences
- Use words from the Y5/6 spelling list

Extension ideas:

- Draw pictures of the world you ended up in. Create a word bank of descriptive words for your world.
- Create some text messages between yourself and a friend telling them about your adventure
- Write a newspaper report about reports of bedrooms changing overnight.
- Create a comic showing your adventures.
