

Non-chronological Report

Write a non-chronological report of a subject that is of interest to you.

A non-chronological report is a non-fiction text that focuses on one subject. It should include lots of facts about that subject.

It should not be written in time order.

You might want to write a non-chronological report about elephants for example. You might include facts about what they look like, where they live, what they eat etc.

Plan your ideas below.

The diagram is a mind map with a central box labeled "Subject:". Six lines radiate from this central box to six surrounding rectangular boxes, each containing a section label for a report:

- Top-left: Introduction:
- Top-middle: Fun fact:
- Top-right: Paragraph 2:
- Bottom-left: Paragraph 3:
- Bottom-middle: Paragraph 4:
- Bottom-right: Conclusion:

Features often included in non-chronological reports:

- an introductory paragraph
- paragraphs each with a different focus
- subheadings
- present tense
- fun or interesting facts
- specific or technical vocabulary
- a glossary
- labelled diagrams or pictures
