| Your task is to use all your brilliant ideas from your plan yesterday and turn t | hem into a |
|--|------------|
| story!   |            |

Remember to keep referring back to your plan and the checklist to help you write an engaging story.

|  | cklist below to help you              | y write an award-w | orthy story!                 |  |
|--|---------------------------------------|--------------------|------------------------------|--|
| e the writing che  |                                       |                    |                              |  |
|  |                                       |                    |                              |  |
|  |                                       |                    |                              |  |
| iting checklist:Well developed   | • A descripti                         |                    | Paraaraphs                   |  |
| iting checklist:Well developed   | A descriptithe setting            |                    | Paragraphs                   |  |
| iting checklist:Well developedcharacters                                   | the setting                           |                    |                              |  |
| iting checklist:Well developedcharactersSentences of                   | the setting   • A range of            |                    | A variety of                 |  |
| iting checklist:Well developed   | the setting                           |                    |                              |  |
| iting checklist:Well developedcharactersSentences ofvarying length | the setting   A range of   punctuatio | on                 | A variety ofconjunctions |  |
| iting checklist:Well developedcharactersSentences of                   | the setting   • A range of            | on .               | A variety of                 |  |

Classroom Secrets Limited 2020

Visit kids.classroomsecrets.co.uk for online games to support learning. Join our f Group: Coronavirus Home Learning Support for Teachers and Parents